

North Branch Works is a membership-based nonprofit organization that serves businesses and advocates for policies that build community wealth. Our long history (over forty-years), local expertise, and deep relationships have made us the leading economic development organization along the North Branch of the Chicago River.

Access to Funding

- Early notifications about grants, city programs, and growth opportunities
- Low-interest loans for startups and existing businesses
- Access to NBW's Small Business Loan Fund
- Assistance with grant applications

Connections to Resources

- Alderpersons & city officials
- Community partners & neighborhood groups
- Referrals to business support organizations
- Advocacy for issues that impact businesses such as city regulations, public projects, and private developments

Networking

- Exclusive events and webinars for members
- Promotion on social media and in our e-newsletter reaching over 1,200 local stakeholders
- Inclusion on NBW's membership page and a feature story on our blog
- Discounts to NBW events
- Access to sponsorship opportunities

Business Solutions

- Early access to our workshops and training sessions
- Assistance finding commercial and industrial real estate and marketing available properties
- Assistance with business licenses, zoning issues, and permits
- Customized support for business specific situations

Membership Dues

North Branch Works offers our membership package at $200 annually with a discounted rate of $100 for the first year. Membership is available to any business or organization located in or doing business in the North Branch.

Contact Information:

Steve Simmons

Director of Business and Economic Development

steve@northbranchworks.org
773.929.5552 x2226

North Branch Works services the North Branch, Addison, Pulaski, and Kennedy Industrial Corridors, providing an array of services, including financial incentives, infrastructure assistance, and connections to other local businesses and community partners. NBW emphasizes new growth, proper land use, and area revitalization through its business advocacy and innovative business solutions. Join our network today!

North Branch Works Service Areas:

